Joseph Bruchac is a highly acclaimed children's book author, poet, novelist, and storyteller, as well as a scholar of Native American culture. He is the co-author of the bestselling Keepers of the Earth series with Michael Caduto. Read reviews from the world's largest community for readers. Stories by Native American writer Joseph Bruchac are featured in various formats, such as the short story collection Turtle Meat and Other Stories. You can find lesson plans and teaching resources inspired by Joseph Bruchac's work for third graders to differentiate between fiction and non-fiction. The story of the Milky Way is an example of his work. A novel about the Navajo Marines of World War Two, When Beaver Challenges Turtle to a Swimming Race for Ownership of the Pond, is another example of his storytelling. Over thirty years, Joseph Bruchac has been creating poetry, short stories, novels, anthologies, and music that reflect his Abenaki Indian heritage and Native American traditions. He is the author of The Sky Tree, a traditional Seneca story. Students were drawn to human interest stories about World War Two, using Joseph Bruchac's model teaching unit for inspiration and summarizing with an exit slip.
